Tell a friend or colleague about Morris Meetings & Incentives and receive a reward valued up to $10,000.00.

Dear Friend,

We never knew. We never suspected, but in a recent survey, our customers told us they like us so much they are “extremely likely” to tell their friends and associates about us.

If you feel the same way, then I have a great offer for you. We’ve decided to award an incentive to valued friends like you. Here’s how it works: for every person you refer to MMI who books business with us; we will reward you based on the total program value as follows:

Program Value*	Incentive
$100,000 to $199,000	One week in Cancun at a four-star resort for two people (includes airfare, accommodations, transfers, and all applicable taxes)
$200,000 to $350,000	One week Barbados yachting experience for two aboard Royal Clipper (includes airfare, accommodations, transfers, and all applicable taxes)
$351,000 and above	South African Safari for two (includes airfare, accommodations, guides, drivers, most meals, and all applicable taxes)

* MMI’s Opportunity Referral Program requires a program travel prior to usage of earned travel.

How do you earn your reward? Just set up an introductory meeting with you, anyone you know who might be interested in talking about incentive travel and myself. No pressure, just talk about the wonderful destinations to choose from and the potential value an incentive travel program offers their company.
